Get U.S. Mobile Phone Service

Getting a U.S. mobile phone service is the foremost necessity for any students in the U.S. to stay connected with your friends and family. Some carriers may offer student discounts but it is best to check with the carrier directly. Some students also bring unlocked phones from their country and buy a U.S. sim card from a mobile provider. AT&T, T-Mobile and Verizon are the three major U.S. cell phone carriers.

Open a U.S. Bank Account

Managing your money is important to your success as a student, and it is highly recommended that one of the first things you do is to open a bank account with a local financial institution.

Opening a U.S.-based bank account will help you stick to a budget as well as make sending and receiving money easier. When you go to set up an account, be sure to get information about account types, debit cards, ATMs and any fees for using the bank and bank services. Please also check the bank's website or contact the bank ahead of time for a list of documents needed for opening an account.
